

Correlation of balanced socio-economic development of the city and its attractiveness (in the case of Russian cities with population over a million citizens)

Glebova I., Khamidullina A., Anisimova E.
Kazan Federal University, 420008, Kremlevskaya 18, Kazan, Russia

Abstract

© 2015, Mediterranean Center of Social and Educational Research. All rights reserved. This article evaluates balanced socio-economic development of the city and its influence on the territorial attractiveness. The hypothesis, that the cities which are developed in socio-economic balance are more attractive and more competitive, is taken as a base of the research. The article classifies the cities according to their level of balance and evaluates the rate of Russian cities with population over a million.

<http://dx.doi.org/10.5901/mjss.2015.v6n1s3p284>

Keywords

Attractiveness of the area, Balanced socio-economic development, City, Investments attracted, Migration balance